Simplifying Compliance. Reducing Risk.

How does it benefit an organization?

Regulations give you mandates. CyMetric gives you the roadmap for compliance. When data privacy and security regulations are issued, organizations face the daunting task of translating them into tangible actions to comply with the law, risking stiff penalties for violation. Cybersecurity frameworks like the NIST CSF, SOC2, or even cyber insurance requirements provide objectives for organizations to accomplish but not a path to get there. CyMetric, a compliance-as-a-service solution, eliminates the ambiguity of satisfying regulatory compliance and framework execution by explicitly defining and documenting the processes, procedures and functions that enable organizations to meet their business objectives.

If you are wondering how to navigate regulations like New York SHIELD Act, CCPA/CPRA, GDPR, CMMC, HIPAA or other state, federal or international regulations or you want to align to best practices, CyMetric provides the direction on how to get there.

Reduce Legal and Operational Expenses

- CyMetric automates creation of the specific standards and policy documents your organization needs to comply with a regulation. This proactive approach reduces legal fees and allows your security/IT teams to focus on implementing the recommended data privacy and security program, instead of deciphering the regulation or scrambling to keep pace with it.
- Caetra.io monitors changes to laws or guidance on their implementation, and updates the CyMetric platform accordingly. Compliance programs will always be current, removing a significant administrative burden from an organization's compliance and legal teams, or in smaller organizations – from the management team.

Reduce Enterprise Risk

- CIOs/CTOs/CISOs are provided clear direction on what they need to do to comply with regulations, frameworks or contracts, in a language they can understand.
- That direction is legally vetted by Harris Beach Murtha, one of the country's top law firms as ranked by The National Law Journal, to ensure the software platform satisfies the applicable laws that CyMetric addresses.
- Regular assessments, defined and managed by CyMetric, provide management teams with an understanding of where compliance and cyber risks lie and how to prioritize them with available resources.
